

Academic Learning Compact

HEALTH SCIENCE OCCUPATION AND WELLNESS

Intended Program Outcomes	Methods of Assessment and Criteria for Success
	Direct Measures	Indirect Measures
1. Upon completion of the Health Science Occupation and Wellness curriculum, graduates will demonstrate proficiency in oral and written communication.	75% or more of students will demonstrate proficiency in communication skills.	75% of students will be assessed as having good oral communication skills in classroom presentations.
2. Students in the Health Science Occupation and Wellness program will demonstrate the ability to critically think, analyze, and problem solve.	75% or more of students will demonstrate critical thinking and problem solving skills in quantifiable examinations.	75% or more of students will demonstrate critical thinking or problem solving skills in group presentations.
3. Graduates will demonstrate an understanding of knowledge, concepts and skills related to the delivery of healthcare.	75% or more of students will demonstrate the use of critical thinking, clinical reasoning skills, and problem solving in fundamental occupational therapy courses.	75% or more of students will demonstrate the ability to explain occupational therapy to community members at community events.
4. Graduates will demonstrate proficiency in various technologies for research, presentations, and documentation.	90% of students will demonstrate the ability to utilize external database sites and resources for evidence-based practice.	All students will demonstrate proficiency in utilizing balckboard in course work.
5. Graduates will demonstrate the ability to integrate and transform knowledge about individuals and groups of people into practices and attitudes in the de3livery of services in the healthcare sector.	All students will demonstrate respect for diversity by utilizing person centered language in all foundational occupational therapy classes.	All students will demonstrate respect for cultural diversity in community activities.